

Since 2017, Quad9 has helped global Internet users protect their computers and networks from accessing known malicious websites and content. 2021 marks a new beginning for Quad9 as it moves its headquarters to Switzerland and becomes the largest DNS security service to have its privacy protections codified by law.

quad9 by the numbers:

155 | Resolver Clusters
In 90+ countries

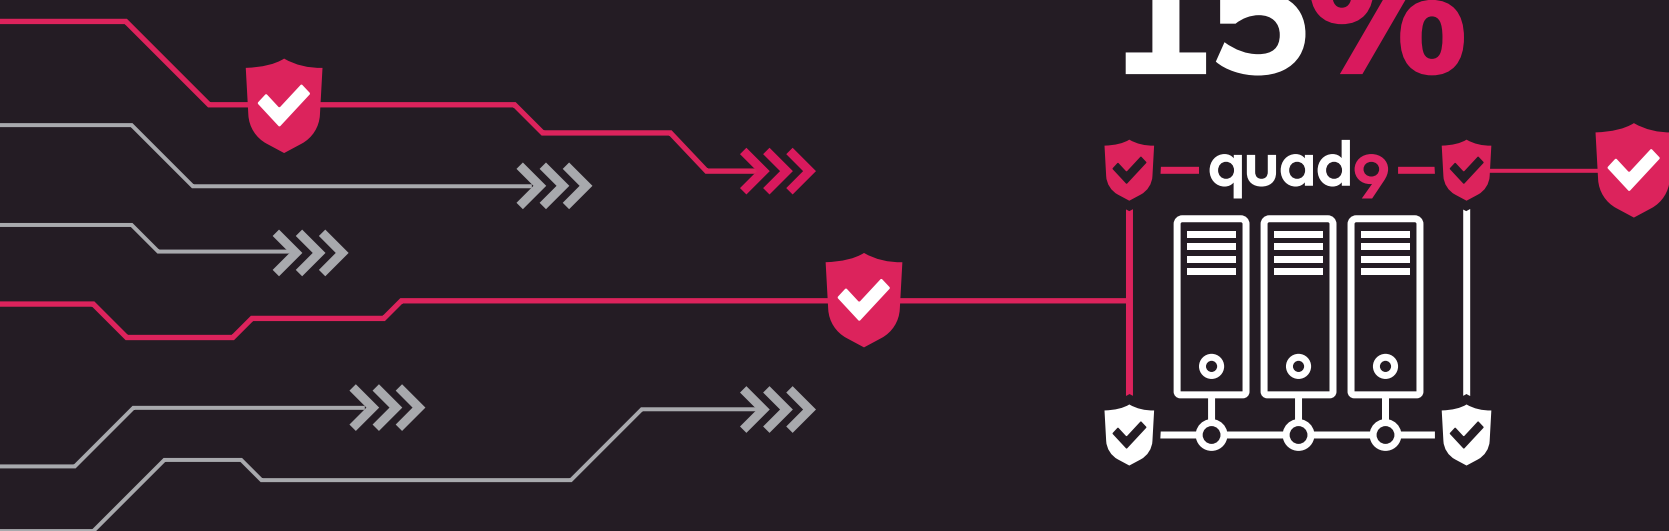

Growth rate of encrypted traffic:

>2%
per week

Percentage of the internet networks using Quad9 (prefixes):

15%

Percentage of organizations (including ISPs, multi-prefix ASNs) using the internet using Quad9:

40%

Number of identified malicious websites

3.3 million+

quad9 blocked more than 25 billion
malicious events in 2020

ZERO

Personal data acquired sold or shared.

quad9

Now based in Zürich, Switzerland